Kids in control

The National Electronics and Computer Technology Center, a government body under the National Science and Technology Development Agency, yesterday launched KidBright Developer Conference 2019 under the concept of ‘Empowered Coding With AI’. Suvit Maesincee, the minister of higher education, science, research and innovation, presided over the opening ceremony and was greeted by young learners, parents and professors at the event, which took place at Samyan Mittrtown. CHANAT KATANYU